Minden school work begins

by Andy Holloway

The new $5.4 million addition to Archie Stouffer Elementary School has finally broken ground.

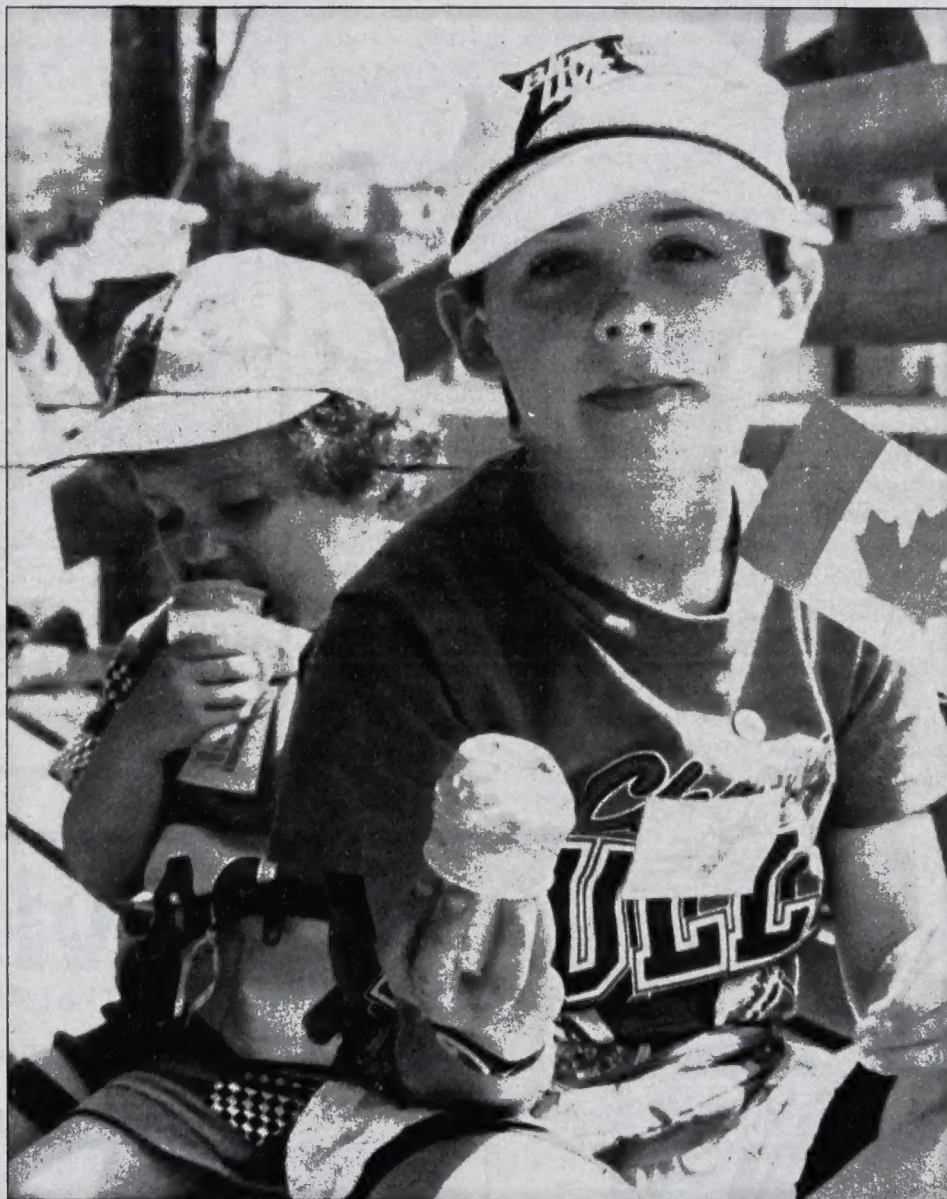

Construction crews have been at the site for over a week now, although the official sod-turning ceremony was held last Thursday. Trustees, board administrators and various other board employees attended the ceremony which marks the start of the addition and the end of two years of talks since the board received a $700,000 grant to proceed with the expansion of the Stouffer school.

Business administrator Jim Bradley says the construction company hopes to have the job mostly completed by December.

"That's the dream. They've been there a week and they're three days ahead of schedule, but that's easily destroyed," said Bradley.

The addition should eliminate the use of the portables at the school and allow kindergarten and grade one students who now use the IGA annex building to attend school in the same building with all the other stu-

Community mourns slain officer

by Times staff

Flags around the county stood at half-mast yesterday as this community mourned the loss of one of its finest in blue.

Eric Nystedt was stabbed to death early Saturday morning outside a Furnace Falls cottage while pursuing a man who had been involved in a fight.

"It's a senseless tragic waste," Minden Sergeant Steve Adam said Saturday. Adam, who was Nystedt's first supervisor when he joined the force three years ago, was visibly shaken.

Contacted Sunday following a grief counselling session for staff, Staff Sergeant Dennis Edlington said many of the Minden officers will be attending the funeral in Sault Ste Marie this week. He said there may also be a memorial service here.

Nystedt was one of a number of officers who have served on Minden's Community Policing project. Former chairman of the policing committee Doug Campbell said Nystedt was the sort of officer who would attempt to reason with individuals who were agitated or emotional.

"He preferred to talk people down, rather than use force," Campbell said.

Besides his police work, Nystedt was heavily involved in a variety of community sports such as skiing, basketball as well as playing tennis in Haliburton's Tuesday Night Tennis League. He also competed as a member of the OPP Cross-Country Racing Club and was the fastest runner in the detachment.

"He was just an excellent guy," said a marine

Wace finds room for $150,000 in savings

by Russ Duhaime

The County could be $250,000 ahead of the game if it buys all of the recommendation in the draft report of the county's management review.

A loss of jobs and a $150,000 investment in computer equipment, however, is the price to be paid for this gain.

The bulk of the savings would come from cuts at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home, which was widely critiqued by the consultant for its lack of leadership. Some would also come from reduced duplications, said Steve Wace, the chief consultant.

Wace and Associates, an independent consulting firm, has concluded its examination of the county's management. A draft report was presented to a closed county council meeting last Wednesday, after which the consultant was available for questions from the press.

Wace said municipalities must be prepared to cope with the erosion of financial support from senior governments.

"The changes in provincial funding are fuelling this," Wace said. Already, the county is struggling to make up for the more than $100,000 in lost provincial grants and Wace says this is just the tip of the iceberg.

And although the county is debt free, Wace notes it has no reserves to cushion the blow of further cutbacks. When the province cuts its transfer payments, the county is faced with the choice of raising taxes or cutting services.

Management blamed for low morale at Hyland Crest

The county shelled out $40,000 for Wace to carry out this examination, but now it's up to council to decide which of the recommendations it will adopt. Wace said Wednesday's day-long session was productive, but they didn't get through all of the report. Another meeting is scheduled for August when council will have a chance to look at Wace's supplementary recommendation to amalgamate the 10 municipalities into a one-tier government -- an option that has tremendous savings potential but is being met with mixed reviews from councillors.

Meanwhile, councillors will be pondering the other recommendations in this lengthy and vaguely worded report -- recommendations that could cut up to $250,000 from the county's expenses.

Almost half of these savings would come from Hyland Crest through reduced office hours and by eliminating duplication of services through improved computer technology. Wace estimates that $104,000 can be saved at Hyland Crest. Another $53,000 can be cut from the roads department, $35,000 from administration, $35,000 in land division, $15,000 from Social Services and $8,000 by reducing the number of council and committee meetings.

Although the study was aimed at finding new ways to cut expenses, Wace found plenty of room for improvement in other facets of the county's operation.

Hyland Crest received the roughest critique of all departments. Here, the report makes note of a labour relations climate that is not conducive to goals of long term care.

County's computer system needs an overhaul, consultant recommends

During Wednesday's interview, Wace agreed the report reflects problems at the home. However, he chose not to elaborate, except to say that part of the problem has been resolved.

In the section of the report dedicated to Hyland Crest, the consultant notes the following:

- The management team is unclear about its role because of the lack of a strategic plan. There is confusion over the authority of the executive secretary.
- Professional development for health care providers should be encouraged. Currently, they need clinical supervision from the Director of Nursing because of lack of skills development opportunities.
- Monthly financial statements are contracted out at cost of $535 per month. This cost could be eliminated through enhanced computers that are compatible with those used at the county office. The main computer at the home isn't even compatible with the one used in the dietary department.
- Morale at the home is low. Staff scheduling is a major source of irritation. Poor labour relations have created attitude problems, which has resulted in grievances and arbitrations.

Wace suggests that the administrator and director of nursing should prepare a list of issues faced by the home and provide the board of management with some suggested solutions and a time frame in which to implement the solutions.

The consultant also suggests that formal performance evaluations should be done for the administrator and director of nursing. In addition, management personnel should be exposed to a labour relations workshop.

Incompatible

One recurring theme in this report is the incompatibility of computers used by the various county departments. The county is loaded with a mishmash of equipment and programs that are unable to talk to each other. Meanwhile, Wace said the equipment is not being used to its potential because there has been no formal training for the staff and there are no manuals for the operators.

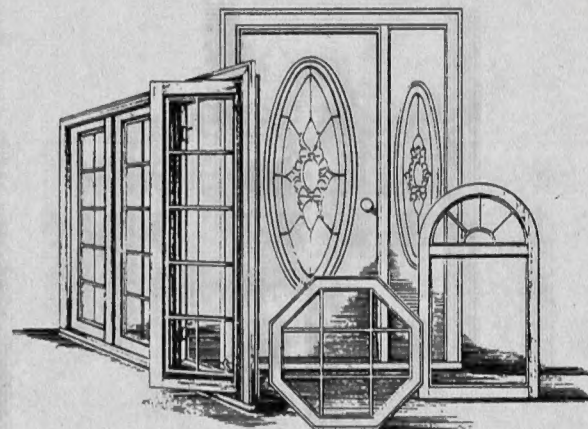

There is no integration of software requirements for the County. Each department uses its own brand of equipment, which makes file sharing and electronic mailing extremely difficult, the report said.

Neither Hyland Crest nor the library is hooked up to the main computer. The clerk at Hyland Crest has to drive over to the county office to enter the payroll.

Inadequate programs used by the roads department have left this department "flying blind," says the report. As a result, the department discovered late in 1992 that it was $300,000 over budget.

Wace is recommending an overhaul of the computer systems throughout the county. The report recommends the purchase of 22 work stations, upgrading of the main system and staff training for a total of $150,000.

Drums away

Branch 636 of the Royal Canadian Legion in Minden was host to the Zone F-4 Drumhead service on Sunday (June 27). Representatives from the 13 Legion Branches along with members of the Ladies Auxiliaries within the zone were in attendance for this special service.

The Drumhead Service is a Scottish military tradition which continues in areas where pipe bands exist. The drums of the band are placed in such a fashion as to create a temporary altar around which a church service could be held. The drums are draped with the colours carried by the troops.

The tradition is kept alive by the local Legion branches to provide an opportunity for members to gather and share comradeship.

Prior to beginning the Drumhead Service, the Legion members marched to the cenotaph for a brief service of remembrance.

Zone Commander Sally Bonner, a member of Branch 636, was the host for the visiting Legion members while the pipes and drums from Branch 129 in Haliburton provided the music. At the left, members of the various colour parties dip their flags as the gathering sings the national anthem.

Respite care program gets boost

by Andy Holloway

Haliburton County's in-home respite care program received a boost last week with the graduation of 15 Red Cross homemakers who can now provide more assistance to those who want to look after family members at home.

The 15 women all live in the county and will work in the county says Marlene Edwards, the director of Home Care in Lindsay. The in-home respite care program is one of a kind in the province and is funded and directed by several groups including the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit and the Canadian Red Cross.

The homemakers take the course, Home Support Level III, at Sir Sandford Fleming College. Ruby Way of the Haliburton Home Care office, says this is the first time the level III course has been offered and it improves on the skills the homemakers already have.

Way says the homemakers are now more qualified to provide primary care in the home, and therefore avoid costly hospitalization and the expense of a nursing home. Homemakers can and will go around the clock to provide a rest for the primary caregiver.

Some of the skills Way says the homemakers improved were in human relations, anatomy, communications, rehabilitation, personal care as well as receiving information on how to deal with terminally ill patients and those with AIDS. The course is 120 hours long and classes were one day a week. The course was made possible by a Ministry of Community and Social Services grant made in 1991. At that time $350,000 was made available through the Haliburton County Community Directional Planning Committee.

The county's directional plan had identified that there were a significant number of caregivers in the county whose responsibilities in caring for a family member were considered onerous. A joint proposal made by the health board and Red Cross was accepted in late 1991 and $175,000 in annual funding was provided for the in-home respite care program.

The 15 women who graduated were Sharon Bacon, Lydia Comeau, Geraldine Coumbs, Doris McGuire, Thora Fideau, Rose-Alma Merritt, Della Jenkinson, Margaret Murray, Madeline Mann, Mary Nesbitt, Ruth Schell, Hannel Walsh, Margaret Wood, Shirley Warder and Marlene Woodcox.

Minden liquor store damaged during break-in

The liquor store in Minden suffered $6,000 worth of damage during a break-in last week.

Besides the damage, 20 bottles of liquor were also stolen with an estimated value of over $700.

According to police, the store was broken into overnight on June 27. Once inside the thieves found and attacked the safe. They were unsuccessful in their attempt to break the safe open.

Bradley says although the expected cost of the construction is $5.4 million, the actual contract price is $4.6 million. The difference in the two costs is for the cost of building permits, removing hazardous material like asbestos and surveying fees. Of that the government is still kicking in $700,000. The rest of the project will be paid for by debenture.

The addition has gone through a number of phases since it was first accepted by the old Ministry of Education in June, 1991. At that time, the ministry announced it would give the board a grant based on an allocation of $2.1 million. However, by October of that year the cost of building an eight classroom addition and one double gym was accepted by trustees as $2.9 million.

Since then the total price has almost doubled and so too has the planned number of classrooms. In May, 1992 the cost went to $3.5 million and the board was hoping to build a junior high school in Haliburton to house grade 7, 8, and 9 students. That plan eventually went by the wayside in part due to the public pressure exerted by Minden residents who opposed sending their children to Haliburton at such an early age. The board held two public meetings to show their plan, but it was not well received.

A plan was even submitted by Doug Campbell and Bryan Kernohan which would create a junior high school in Minden at a cost of $5.5 million. That plan was called option 5 and it too was scrapped.

Trustees instead accepted Option 1 which for the price of $3.5 million built 12 classrooms, one double gym and converted the old gym to a library.

The final plans submitted by Allen & Sherriff Architects Inc. builds 16 classrooms and some additional administration space. The school will have three buildings added to the back (north end) of the school. The plan also calls for the space between the music room (the original school building) and the main building to be filled in and an improved front entrance design.

There will also be a new bus route cutting along the east side of the school's property running parallel with Bobcaygeon Road. The route should cut alleviate some of the traffic problems at the school and satisfy residents in the area who have complained about the stinky diesel buses idling on the roads.

In January, 1992 Bradley predicted the dirt would be flying in 13 months. He was off by only two months. Hopefully the board is right on the construction time prediction.

Nystedt: An 'excellent guy' patrol student who worked with Nystedt last summer. "He was a lot of fun to be with."

Nystedt would have turned 25-years-old at the end of this month. He had been with Minden OPP, his first posting, for almost three years. Nystedt was single although engaged to be married to a Hamilton woman.

Funeral services will be held in Sault Ste. Marie where Nystedt's parents live. Nystedt is also survived by an older brother Scott, who works for the OPP in the Ottawa area.

Peterborough OPP say Constables Eric Nystedt and Mike Landry were called to investigate a fight between two men at a cottage in Furnace Falls around 2 a.m. Saturday. During the fight one man was smashed in the face with a beer bottle and was taken to the hospital. The other man fled into the darkness when the OPP arrived. A short time later the man was spotted by Nystedt who gave chase. The man then stabbed Nystedt in the leg, slashing the femoral artery. Nystedt bled to death in a few minutes while being taken to Minden Hospital.

An extensive air and ground search team was formed to search for the man. Minden OPP and five other police detachments, a police helicopter, and the canine unit were involved in the search.

Police picked up the suspect, a 33-year-old, Fenelon Falls man, huddled in a ditch on Highway 503 near Furnace Falls around 12:30 p.m. on Saturday. The suspect was taken to the Cobocokk OPP detachment before being moved to Lindsay.

Lenard Roy Phillips has been charged with first degree murder and will appear in Lindsay court today (Monday) for a bail hearing.

Bank helps to pave old lot

The parking lot behind Minden's township office is being paved with the help of some funding from the bank.

No, the township didn't take out a loan. Instead, it collected $11,000 cash in lieu of parking from the CIBC.

When the bank expanded in size last year, it had to provide a certain number of parking spaces. Since there wasn't enough property for the necessary parking, the township agreed to a cash settlement.

The $11,000 is being put to use by improving the municipal parking lot.

Canada Day Splash

Minden was the place to be last Thursday to enjoy a day filled with activities and entertainment. The perfect weather was the icing on the cake as hundreds of people came to the village to partake in a wide variety of activities. Swimming, raft races, a river parade, wagon rides and ongoing entertainment made this family-style Canada Day another enormous success.

Smith crew hits bridge first

The Downunder Crew paddled their raft to first place in this year's race on the Gull River.

Kevin Smith, who was the skipper of this six-man crew, accepted the prize money from race organizer Gord Monk.

Smith, however, pocketed just $20 (enough to pay for the materials in the raft) and turned the rest of the winnings over to the Minden Hospital fund.

There were 10 wild entries in this year's race, paddling, pulling and splashing their way from Rotary Park to the Minden bridge.

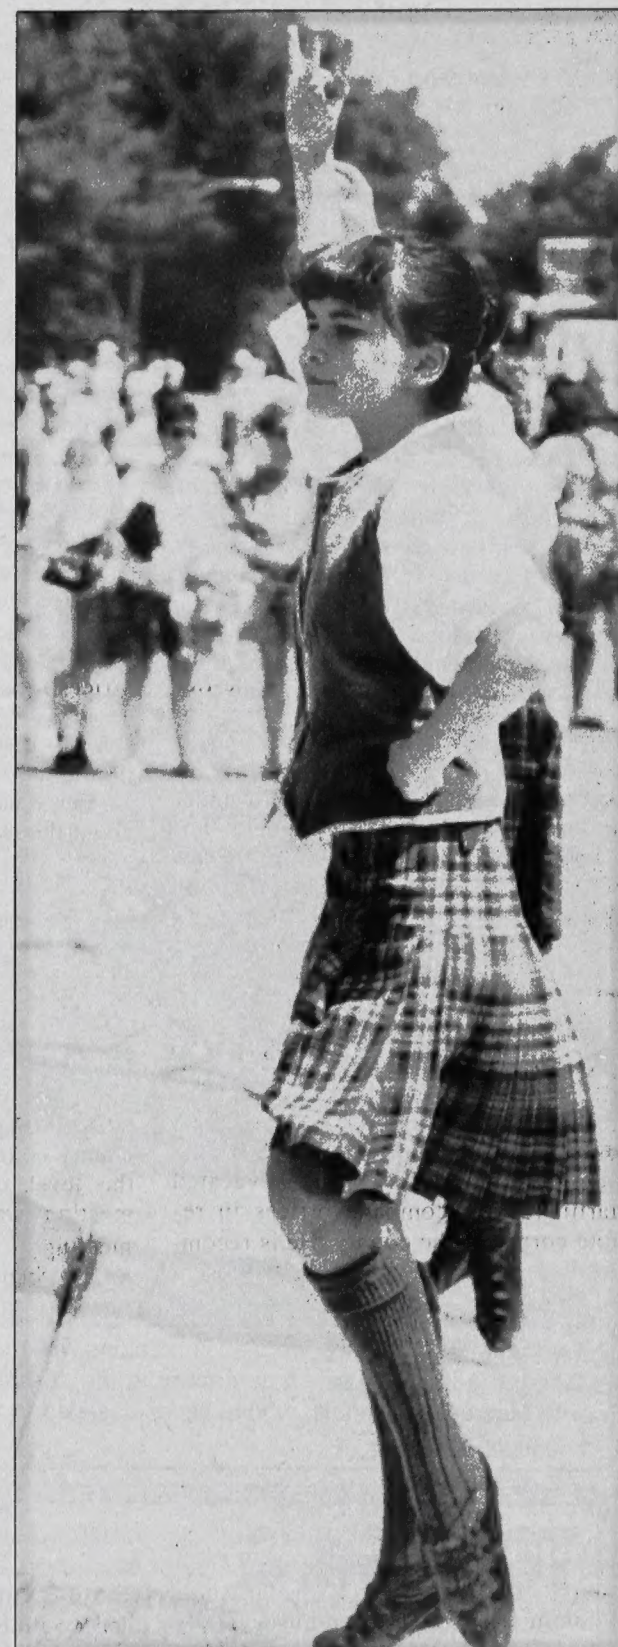

Finishing in second place was the father-and-son team of Allen and Justin Rushton. Donning his scuba gear, Allen pulled the inner-tube raft while Justin steered it from above.

The third-place entry was skipped by Walter Psotka, who also utilized inner tubes for flotation.

The entry from Rudy's Restaurant broke its mast when it crashed into the golf course bridge and finished a distant fourth. This sassy crew, however, managed to catch the judges' attention and were ceremoniously acclaimed the best dressed entry.

Equipped with a water pump to douse their opponents, the Minden Basement Savers (aka firefighters) raced their way to fifth place. They also earned great esteem for the uniqueness of their craft to share in the glory of this true sporting event.

Harcourt: the county town?

Big savings possible in one-tier county

Haliburton County would save more than $1.2-million per year if the 10 municipalities were to be grouped together into a single-tier government.

However, the idea is apt to die an early death if county council pursues the abandoned Harcourt lumber mill as the location of choice for this new style of municipal government.

The consulting firm hired to look at cost-saving measures for the county took a detour from its terms of reference to come up with a proposal for one-tier government for this county.

In his draft report, principal consultant Steve Wace said it is impossible for the county to achieve its desired under the current system of government. For this reason, he decided to look at the potential savings that might come from the elimination of all the lower-tier governments.

While this proposal has great potential for savings, it also requires much more office space than is currently available at the county headquarters in Minden.

With this in mind, Wace has picked up on the recurring proposal to move the county operations over to the vacated Martin lumber company offices in remote corner of the county. He is recommending that the county sell its present office and use the money to buy the building on Elephant Lake, which he says is going for the bargain basement price of $1-million.

During an interview Wednesday, Wace said the county is not actively pursuing this option. However, a few moments later Snowdon Reeve George Simmons walked in on the interview to announce that the next meeting of county council will be held in Harcourt.

Simmons, who is enthusiastically pushing for one-tier government, continued to say that the Harcourt building would be a good deal for the county.

Warden Chris Hodgson, who was also now in the room, attempted to do some damage control. He said the Harcourt proposal is just one of several options. Council's priority right now is to take a serious look at the function of municipal government. Housing, he said, should be addressed later. He said accommodation and amalgamation are separate issues.

Contacted later, Minden Reeve Bern Berry said it was his idea to have the next county council meeting in Harcourt. He said the option of moving the county offices to Harcourt has never been seriously discussed in his presence and he was surprised to see this recommendation in the Wace report.

Berry said he's heard a lot of talk about the Harcourt offices but has never been there. "I couldn't even find it if they asked me to go there," he said. He said he would oppose any notion of moving the county headquarters out of Minden -- especially to such a remote location.

In order for one-tier government to fly, it needs unanimous support from all the municipalities. Wace said the proposal doesn't have the full support of county council. However, he noted that the level of support at Wednesday's meeting was better than at previous meetings.

The benefit of this untested form of government its ability to streamline the services, said Wace. Currently, there are 51 municipal politicians in 10 municipalities governing a combined population of 13,000.

Wace's proposal is to replace the municipal councils with management boards. The municipalities would become electoral wards and one representative would be elected from each to sit on county council. A full-time warden would be elected from the county at large and be paid $45,000 to $50,000 salary.

County council has not yet had an opportunity to address this recommendation.

Library funding is lowest

Funding for Haliburton County's libraries is the lowest in the province, a report on county government has found.

A consulting firm hired to look for savings in all county functions found little room for manoeuvring in the county's cash-strapped libraries. Steven Wace notes that the cost per household for library services in Haliburton County is less than half that of the next lowest in Ontario.

Each household in the county contributes $4.31 to the library through their taxes. The provincial average is $29.

The consultant is recommending that the county boost its funding for the libraries by an additional $2 per household. Seventy-five per cent of this should be used to buy new books.

Wace also encourages the county librarian to look into several provincial funding programs to enhance the system. In addition, he recommends fundraising campaigns to supplement new grants.

Some consideration should also be paid to increasing the open hours of the libraries by reducing the number of branches, enlisting volunteers and merging some branches with school libraries, he says.

Welfare fraud on the rise

Haliburton County should consider hiring an investigator to clamp down on the rising cost of welfare fraud, a consultant has concluded.

Fraudulent welfare claims are estimated to account for about 10 to 15 per cent of the county's social services case load, Steven Wace notes in his draft review of the county's management. The report says this has increased substantially from about four per cent a few years ago.

The welfare caseworkers are dealing with a heavy workload, which is further complicated by the long distances they must travel to meet with clients, the report says. The average case load here is 190, compared to a provincial average of about 140. The recommended provincial standard for case loads is 90 clients.

A tragic loss

A violent death always sends shock waves through a community, especially one as close knit as ours.

That shock is even greater when the death is that of an officer we have asked, and who has stepped forward, to protect the community.

Constable Eric Nystedt was more than a police officer. He was a vital, caring individual who enjoyed a zest for life, cared deeply about the community, and who believed in the inherent value of a society living within its laws and regulations.

His death has touched everyone in the community he served. His presence will be missed and we are all poorer as a result of this young life lost. We join those closest to him in their sorrow and share their burden.

White elephant

Listen up class. The question for today's geography lesson is where is Elephant Lake.

Count yourself among the privileged few if you know the answer. If, on the other hand, you have to go looking for a map, you'll be as perplexed as we are about the notion of locating the county offices in such a remote location.

It seems there's a beautiful office building out there just waiting for the right occupant and there's at least one county councillor who believes this is the ideal location for a new county office.

Apparently this former head office for Martin Lumber is worth more than $3 million and is selling for about a third of its value. It has more than enough space to house all of the county staff. In fact, there's so much room that a consultant is recommending that part of the building could also be leased to the board of education to house its administration.

The problem is few people would be able to find this new county office. In one fell swoop, the county would break all ties with the residents it is suppose to serve if it decided to move its headquarters out to Elephant Lake.

We've been assured that this proposal is not getting serious attention from the majority of county councillors. Let's just keep it that way.

Down, out but not flushed

Rantin' n' Ravin'

by Andy Holloway

There is a certain far-away feeling that comes to you when you realize you can not be bothered by anyone or anything. This light-headedness must be why cottaging is so popular.

It's been a long time since my family sold our cottage on Head Lake (the bigger one - north-west of Norland) and nearly as long since the last time one of my friends managed to weasel an undisturbed weekend up north from their parents. But it finally came to pass and like riding a bike, everything was exactly like I remembered even though we were on Christian Island and not at the Head, as we used to call it.

It rained. A lot.

And when it rains there are certain cottage rituals that arise. Brown pops are loaded quickly into the fridge replacing hamburgers, hot dogs and condiments. Age old games, like Super Quiz (a poor man's Trivial Pursuit) and Yahtzee, are dusted off and played with glee. No where else can an adult scream "YAHTZEE" and get away with it but at the cottage.

I could tell the Super Quiz game was slightly out of date when this question was asked, "What superstar posed nude ten years ago and recently Playboy published the photos?" Everyone answered Madonna which seemed like a good answer until the correct answer was revealed...Suzanne Somers. Suzanne Somers? Superstar? Come on. I remember the jiggly Three's Company years, but what has she done lately? While pondering this, other oddities of cottage life came into play.

To all the cottagers out there, tell me if you've seen this notice before in your bathroom:

TOILET INSTRUCTIONS

1. Don't bother flushing a #1 with water.
2. Ladle flush-water from bucket. Pull and release handle gently.
3. If you are doing #2, then do follow 2 as above and make sure that you do 2 until the 2

The Times welcomes signed letters to the editor on subjects of interest to our readers. Short letters are most likely to be chosen for publication, but the use of any material is at the discretion of the editor. The editor reserves the right to edit letters to meet space requirements, for clarity or to avoid obscenity, libel or invasion of privacy.

Upon request, names may be withheld, but only very rarely and for compelling reasons. Letters published do not necessarily reflect the editorial policies or beliefs of this newspaper. All letters must bear the handwritten signature of the writer and include the address and phone number for verification purposes.

Why use two-ply when one-ply will do the doo doo is done (go light on paper - and always use 1-ply).

Sound familiar? Our old cottage had similar instructions although they were much expanded and included a philosophy of lake living, "If you don't want to swim in it, don't flush it."

To a six-year-old, this warning was taken quite literally which meant flushing the toilet was not good. Of course, it was OK to flush it late at night because you probably weren't going for a swim in the wee hours of the new day. Nightmares always came anyway. Swimming peacefully in the tranquil waters when all of a sudden, from the dark muddy depths, a large slime monster would erupt.

"You created me and now you'll pay for it!" it would scream, causing us to wake up in cold, clammy sweat.

When the sun does peek its big head out from the clouds, so too do the bugs. This leads to a simple poser - why hasn't someone invented a sunscreen that repels bugs at the same time?

When the sun comes out the sunscreen goes on, but its sweet smell seems to attract bugs. So, bug spray or lotion is applied diluting the effect of both the sunscreen and bug repellent. Hence, bug bites on sunburned skin which is perhaps the most hurtful, non-fatal injury one can have. Psychologically alone, this could lead to being a nutter as you sit there squirming, desperately wanting to scratch, but aware that every touch on your barbecued skin is pure agony.

In any case, two days at a cottage can seem like a week of regular time which may explain why seniors like to spend their retirement years at the cottage stretching out their lives...at least in their minds.

Got a beef? Drop us a line. Letters to the editor are welcome, but must be signed (full name), and a phone number should be included for confirmation.

The rich are different: they have money

Buddy, can you spare a dime? I'm just kidding. I've got a dime. If you could spare three or four thousand bucks, this might turn out to be a meaningful conversation, but never mind, forget it. We're all singing the Short of Hard Cash Blues.

Most of us anyway. In place of dollars and cents we've got bills and dreams. That's what keeps us plugging away at our nine-to-five grinds, buying lottery tickets and investing mad money in a few shares of consolidated Moose Pasture every once in a while. There's no shortage of folks trying to get rich, but you hardly ever come across someone who's trying to be poor.

No money in it.

Still...did you ever wonder what it must be like to be rich? Really rich? Rockefeller/King/Midas/Scrooge/McDuck rich?

Well, I can tell you it's no picnic.

For one thing, a billion dollars won't buy what it used to, you know. Not by a long shot. Why, measured in 1987 dollars, a billion today is really no more than a measly $795 million according to Fortune magazine.

Which explains why there are more than twice as many billionaires in the world as there were just six years ago. Back in 1987 there weren't even 100 people in the world with a billion bucks to their name. Today, the club membership stands at 233.

It's interesting to peruse the list and pick out

Black 'n White

by Arthur Black

the cream of the crop, the ten richest people in the world. One of them is a woman. There are three Japanese, several Arabs and a handful of Americans.

Put away those Maple Leaf flags folks. There are no Canadians among the top ten. You have to go all the way down to number 17 before you uncover a Canuck. There you'll find media tycoon Ken Thompson and his modest $5.7 billion grubstake.

Queen Elizabeth is the one woman on the list. They reckon her stock investments, race horses, jewelry and art, not to mention ahhh...real estate, mean Her Majesty (make that Her Maje$ty) is worth just under $8 billion and number nine in the top ten.

You know all those Mars Bars you've eaten over the years? Well, Mister Forrest Mars Sr. would like to thank you most sincerely for that. Your patronage earned him the title of the world's third richest person with a fortune of $14 billion, give or take a nickel.

And yes, Virginia, there really is a legendary American family called the Waltons, but it ain't the folks that lived on Walton Mountain. This Walton family owns the Wal-Mart store chain which the number-crunchers figure is worth $23.5 billion.

The richest person in the world? A rotund and smiling chap in white silk whose business card - if he carried a business card - would read Sultan of Brunei. Brunei is a laughable little chunk of sand not much bigger than Prince Edward Island.

Fortunately for the Sultan his patch of sand sits atop the richest known oil and gas deposit on the planet, which makes the Sultan worth a cool $37 billion.

How much is that? How much is thirty-seven thousand million dollars? Who knows? Who knows how much anything is these days? We live in a world where a man-child like Robbie Alomar gets 4.5 million bucks a season for playing second base in what used to be a kid's game.

We live in a world where a crook like Ivan Boesky, the convicted securities dealer, can tell a judge with a straight face that he needs $20 million from his ex-wife because he's "barely surviving". The judge agreed. He also ordered Boesky's ex-wife to pay him $180,000 a year for life and to throw in a $2.5 million mansion in California.

Yeah, that ought to keep the wolf from the door.

Ivan Boesky proves the truth of Hemingway's retort to F. Scott Fitzgerald. "Let me tell you about the very rich," said Fitzgerald, "They're different from you and me."

"Yes," retorted Hemingway, "They have more money."

Soccer action

The Haliburton Westside Jug City soccer team is at home this Wednesday at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. The team is in the thick of things in Muskoka District action.

Plaque presentations: Sheila Lee, head of visitor services at Balsam Lake Provincial Park, shows off one of the plaques that have been presented to various organizations. The presentations are to mark the 100th anniversary of provincial parks in Ontario.

Balsam Lake park busy with birthday celebrations

by Jerry Grozelle

1993 marks the 100th anniversary of provincial parks in Ontario.

As part of the celebrations, Sheila Lee, who is in charge of visitor services at Balsam Lake Provincial Park, has presented a number of plaques to various organizations.

Among those presented with plaques were Ridgewood Public School in Cobocok, both schools in Kirkfield, Somerville and Bexley townships, the Lindsay Library and the Municipal office in Lindsay.

Balsam Lake Park officials have a busy season of activities planned.

Regular programs offered weekly include a Sunday morning hike; environmental games on Wednesdays; children's programs on Thursday mornings and guided hikes Thursday afternoons; campfires on Fridays; and Saturday evenings are reserved as film nights.

Several special events are planned for July.

The grand opening of the Plantation Trail will take place on July 10, starting at 10 a.m. The trailhead sign will be unveiled, and the plaque will be dedicated. A number of visiting dignitaries are expected. The event will also mark the 100th anniversary of parks in Ontario.

Later the same evening, a night of history revived will be presented at look-out trail. The presentation is titled "Shadows Of The Past."

Jim and Dave's Awesome Camping Adventure, a musical comedy, promises to be a crowd-pleaser on July 13.

A fire crew will be on hand at picnic shelter #2 on July 15 to give a demonstration of forest fighting techniques and do a presentation on forest fire prevention.

Horse-drawn wagon tours of the park will be conducted on Saturday, July 17.

A canoe demonstration will take place at picnic shelter #1 on July 22 at 1:00 p.m. Paddling techniques, canoe rescues and canoe safety are among the topics.

Would-be SCUBA divers will get a chance to get their feet wet in that sport on July 24. A trained instructor will teach the basics. The course is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. at picnic shelter #2.

For more information on these and other programs at Balsam Lake Provincial Park, call 454-3324.

Highland Games return for fifth year

The fifth annual Highland Games return to Haliburton this Saturday, however the location of the games has moved to Head Lake Park.

In the past, the games were held at Glebe Park, however organizers felt the field at the park would not be ready in time for this year's games. The field was seeded on June 12 and it was felt the grass would not be able to withstand the expected crowds. Dysart council agreed to the venue change at its June meeting.

One other site was discussed, that being the high school, but school board policy prohibits the sale of alcohol on school grounds.

Events start at 12:30 p.m. and admission is $6 for adults and kids under 12 are admitted free.

Horse pull in Norland

The 19th annual Horse Pull in Norland presented by the Norland Firefighters Association is also this Saturday.

Four classes of light and heavy horses and ponies will be competing for cash prizes. As well, the Old Tyme Fiddlers will be entertaining the crowds and a raffle for a $1,000 bill will be held. Admission is $4 and the show gets underway at 1 p.m.

MNR issues camping rights warning

The Ministry of Natural Resources is reminding the public that camping on crown land is a privilege and not a legal right.

Minden Area Supervisor Stan Flemming says camping on crown land for up to 21 days is allowed although this is a guideline and not a rule.

The time period may be varied to prevent a camper from monopolizing a site for a period of time when demand is high and space is limited. The 21 day period was originally chosen because that is the average length of most people's holidays.

There are crown sites that camping is not allowed on and 'No Camping' signs have been posted at these sites including: Salmon Lake, Mississauga Lake, Mississauga Dam, Long Lake, Bass Lake, Rustyshore Lake, Lochlin Lake, Billings Lake, Stormy Lake, Gooderham (Pine) Lake, Glamor Lake, Elliott Falls, Norland Dam, Lutterworth Lake, Mountain Lake, Buckskin Lake, Little Esson Lake, Dudman Lake, Lower Welch Lake, Buckslides, Victoria Bridge and Ritchie Falls.

The MNR is also reminding the public to leave the camping sites the way they find them. This means taking, or burning, all the garbage from the site, making sure fires are dead and not cutting or stripping trees.

Barrie, Haliburton tie at one

The result was to be expected.

Two teams, the Haliburton and Barrie soccer squads, tied in the standings each with about the same scoring power came together and tied at one last Sunday at the high school.

The teams which had posted four wins and five losses over their first nine games remained in a tie for sixth place, eight points behind league-leading Huntsville in the Muskoka District Soccer League.

Scoring for Haliburton Westside Jug City was Cecil Smith while Ralph Galle replied for Barrie Youth. Smith's goal was his second of the year and gave Haliburton a 1-0 lead before the game was 15 minutes old. However, Barrie pressed on and tied the game, but could not get the winner.

Jan Haedicke leads the team with five while Hans Walter has four goals. Other scorers this year include Darren Parsons with two and Nico Haedicke with three (all in one game against Parry Sound).

Haliburton plays Bracebridge on Wednesday at the high school.

Watch For Our Next Door Crasher - July 19, 20, 21, 1993

Meeting of the young environmental minds

by Andy Holloway

It was a meeting of young environmentally conscious minds when Camp Allsaw councillors and Bark Lake leadership students got together last Wednesday to share their knowledge.

Camp Allsaw has long been known for its environmental flavour - founder Sam Hambly won a Lieutenant Governor's award for his work last October - and its counsellors pass along their know-how to campers during the summer months.

However, the Bark Lake Leadership Centre is in its first year with an environmental focus. This year the centre is offering a course in environmental leadership. The first group, which visited Allsaw, contains a group of native Canadians from Sandy Lake who will pass along the skills they learn here to younger natives back home.

One of the Bark Lake leaders Clare McGee says the natives provide an opportunity to connect "the white alienated culture back to the land." He says the natives are real-live youths who live in the bush and love it, so they have the connection with the land that urban youths do not.

"There is a terrific exchange happening between the natives and the others from southern Ontario, expanding who they are and understanding the land."

But there is also a reverse learning process as well says Bark Lake leader Debbie Blair. The native group's mentor is here as well so that when the natives return and set up their own camps the mentor will be able to provide information and back-up support, if needed, says Blair.

Camp Allsaw councillors demonstrated how the whole composting system works from collecting kitchen scraps to harvesting the vegetables out of the soil made from those same scraps. Over and over, soil was stressed as the giver of life. Hambly told the students that there is a big job to do in convincing people of this fact, but the process is starting.

The leadership students were shown how composters work as well as how the shredders and mixers which turn the compost into fertile soil are used. Students could also look through a microscope to see the teeny life that is operating within the compost. Finally, some students participated in planting vegetables in the Camp Allsaw garden.

Later in the day the students became teachers as the Bark Lake students showed Allsaw counsellors some new environmental games and songs for them to pass along to the summer campers, the first of whom arrived last Sunday.

Gord Kidd and Falina Pierson express their love in an unusual way during Anton Chekhov's The Boor.

Little Theatre putting on big show

by Andy Holloway

Highlands Little Theatre is putting on three plays every Wednesday this summer as part of its summer production series "A Summer Sampler."

The plays start this Wednesday and continue until August 11 and the plays are nothing if not eclectic. The plays are Down Home Country Monologue, The Cat Connection and The Boor.

The Boor is a farce written by Anton Chekhov, which features Gord Kidd, Falina Pierson and Tom Robinson as the actors. Irene Lubowitz is the director and judging from the rehearsals last Wednesday this one is a battle of wits between the sexes.

Pierson says The Boor is "quite famous" and should be well received and there is also a chance for audience participation. Volunteers will be sought at the beginning of the evening to play minor, non-speaking roles as The Boor comes to its climax, a fight. The bit players will be dressed in wrap-around costumes and carry a prop to illustrate who they are, although they will not actually have to do any fighting. Director Irene Lubowitz says the set for The Boor, which was designed and built by John Lubowitz, is amazing.

The first play has Debra Dart acting out a series of monologues although there is a little more connection to the audience than in some traditional monologues. Pierson says the characters will dispense wisdom and some comic material, particularly when Dart plays an old spinster talking about that nastiest of topics, S.E.X.

The second play is the most sentimental of the three says Pierson and has Irene Lubowitz and Eleanor Cooper playing two lonely women who meet by accident in a park when they come to feed the same stray cat.

There is little delay between the first and second plays says Pierson although there is a 15 minute intermission before The Boor to set up the stage. The Boor is the only one of the three plays with an elaborate set.

Tickets are $7 in advance ($5 for students and seniors), $8 and $6 at the door respectively. Paulette's, Rails End Gallery and The Store-room are selling advance tickets.

Janelle Robinson of Ingoldsby and Bruce Bird of Burlington would like to announce their recent engagement.

Both are graduates of Mohawk College in Hamilton with Diplomas in Music. Bruce is also a recent graduate of McMaster University with his Bachelor of Commerce. Janelle also has just received her Certificate of Micro-Computer Studies through Sir Sandford Fleming College.

June was a very pleasant month, except for the black flies and mosquitoes. June had lots of sunny days and about average rainfall. It seemed much warmer than last June, but the average for the month is only a degree warmer.

Rain was about average except for heavy rain on the 26th and 27th. Heavy rain, hail and thunder on the 27th as well. This storm was local and started over Georgian Bay near Midland. It cut across west to east to Minden and Haliburton and on over to Bancroft. Hail was large, at least one centimeter (marble sized) and rare in this part of the country.

Below: Some hail stones from the storm on June 27 measured nearly an inch in diameter.

Grads!

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School students received their diplomas Saturday (June 26) in ceremonies marking the end of the school year. It was a proud moment for the graduates, their parents and teachers as the certificates were presented and some of the young adults bid farewell to HHSS and the friends they have known through the years at the local schools.

Many of the graduates will be heading off to colleges and universities, while others will be testing their skills and knowledge in the working world.

Speaking on behalf of the graduating classes, valedictorians Catya Hynard and Dawn Rowan recalled some of the amusing and tender moments that the students will cherish for years to come. They expressed their appreciation to the teachers and their parents for the support and assistance they provided.

It was also a poignant moment for HHSS principal Peter Forgrave who is leaving the school to be principal at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden. He challenged the students to obtain the maximum benefit from the education they had received and wished them luck as they started down these new and exciting roads in their lives.

The photographs on these three pages show the students who were present to receive their diplomas.

Missing from our photo coverage is the awarding of Certificates of Education, which were presented to Marylou MacDuff and Fawn Rogers.

MINISTRY OF NATURAL RESOURCES

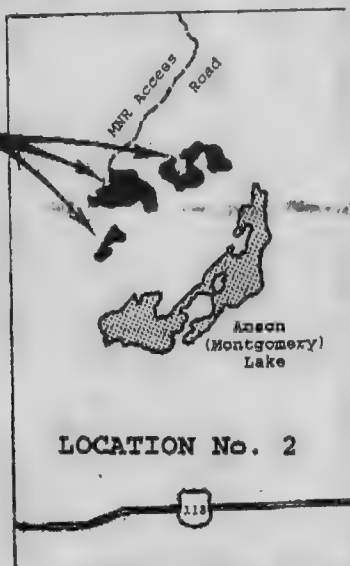

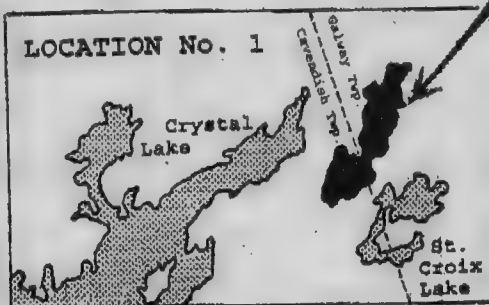

Public Notice of a Prescribed Burn

Between mid-June and mid-August, the Ministry of Natural Resources will be conducting two prescribed burns in this area for reforestation purposes. The first of these is 15 km southeast of Kinmount, about one kilometre northeast of Crystal Lake along the Galway-Cavendish township line. The second is located 15 km west of Carnarvon, about one kilometre north of Anson Lake (also known as Montgomery Lake) in Hindon Township. The exact date of these burns will depend on suitable weather conditions and any northern fire-fighting assignments for the Haliburton Fire Centre's crews. The most probable date for the burns is during the last two weeks of July.

If you observe smoke or helicopter activity in the area of these prescribed burns during this period, please do not drive to them for a closer look. Access to the burn sites will be closed, and curious on-lookers will only block traffic and impede the movements of MNR fire crew. You will be welcome to view the site after the fire has been extinguished.

The purpose of these prescribed burns is to prepare two recently logged areas for the planting of 192,000 white pine, hemlock and spruce in the spring of 1994. For more information on this prescribed burn or on other forestry activities in this area, please contact Peter Hynard of the MNR Minden Office at (705) 286-1521. For information on the day of the burn, call the Haliburton Fire Centre at (705) 457-2107.

Norland parties

by Jerry Grozelle

Close to 100 people took part in the Canada Day festivities at Ward Memorial Park in Norland on Thursday.

The day's activities kicked off with a ball game at 11 a.m. featuring the kids against the mothers. The kids won.

During the day three face painters were kept busy performing their artistry on the faces of the youngsters and some not-so-youngsters.

Meanwhile, inside the Community Centre were a handful of displays, including the Laxton, Digby and Longford Fire Department, the Horticultural Society and others.

Constable Dave Fletcher of the Coboconk OPP was on hand with the OPP patrol boat. He gave tours of the craft, talked about water safety, gave out brochures and stickers as well

Clockwise from above: Kids of all ages were kept busy with activities like water balloon tossing and catching, the wheel barrel race, and meeting friends new and old, even if they did have their face painted to celebrate Canada's 126th birthday.

Lions voluntary toll a boost to plexiglass fund

by Maurice Boyd

On Saturday, May 22, our Lions Club's second annual voluntary toll booth was a great success. We want to thank everyone that was so generous in their contributions. This project collected $1,280 which brought our donation to the Minden Arena Plexiglass fund to $3,000.

The Minden Timbersport Festival on June 12 drew a large crowd to the main street. Our Lions Club sponsored the axe throwing contest and it was a very popular event judging by the crowd that looked on. First place went to Michel Lalonde, second went to Cliff Hughes and third went to David Jewitt. The Lions Club also put up a $200 gift certificates for lodgings, food and beverage, redeemable at Hart Lodge. The certificate was picked from a table of donated items, by Tim Keech of New York State.

On June 13, the CNIB Camp on Lake Joseph in Muskoka held their annual open house for Lions and Lioness clubs that help finance the camp. Several of the Minden Lions of Lionesses went for the day. This camp is for people of all ages with impaired sight. There are 20 counsellors that look after 80 people each week and the program runs from the last week of June to the end of August. Lioness Dorothy and myself have visited the past three years and we are more impressed by the dedication of the counsellors and the camp's facilities each time. Lions Clubs of Ontario can be proud of this great facility.

Another Lions' year is coming to a close. On July 1, the new officers will take their respective offices. Their positions require a lot of time and energy. We congratulate the following Lions on their election to the Board of Directors.

President Daryl Moore, 1st vice-president Tom Gardner, 2nd vice-president Brian Moore, 3rd vice-president Al Stott, secretary Greg Readman, treasurer George Moulton, Lion tamer Nick Boekestyn, tail twister Bob Harrington, first year director Scott Moore and second year director Hugh McIntyre.

The above officers were installed by District A-16 P.C.C. Carl Young, on June 23 at a joint dinner meeting with the Minden Lionesses and friends. Chief Lion Hugh McIntyre turned out another of his delicious dinners. The serving and clean-up were ably done by the Minden Pathfinders.

The ladies of Staunworth apartments have a draw this year to raise funds for Canine Vision Canada. CVC is a Lions' school for the breeding, raising and training of dogs for the blind.

Sylvia Howard, organizer of this annual draw, hopes to surpass last year's $2,000 effort. Prizes this year are one double-size, hand-made quilt, a single-size, hand-made quilt and a hand-knit Blue Jays sweater. Tickets are $1 each and are available from any Lion or the residents of Staunworth apartments. The draw for these beautiful prizes will take place on August 22 at the 1993 County Fair.

By the time you read this Canada will have celebrated its 126th birthday. I hope you were able to take in a few of the many activities arranged in Minden for this occasion. Local residents and businesses put in a lot of time and effort into this day's activities.

Circus coming to Stanhope

The circus is coming, the circus is coming.

The Haliburton Chamber of Commerce is bringing the three-ring Kelly-Miller Circus to Stanhope on Sunday, August 8 for two performances.

Co-owner and manager David Rawls said spectators can expect an "old time" circus because his "business is built on tradition."

Besides being a lot of fun, the circus will also help the Stanhope Fire Fighters Association raise money for new rescue equipment. The association is sponsoring the event for the first time. Two years ago when the circus came to town the fire fighters engaged in a tug-of-war with an elephant and lost. The circus comes every other year so last year Stanhope did not host it.

The public is invited for a free sneak preview of the circus Sunday morning at 7:30 a.m. to see the animals unloaded and the tents raised. The tents will rise around 9 a.m. and guides will be on hand to show children the ins and outs of circus life.

Founded in 1938 by the Miller family of Oklahoma, the Kelly-Miller Circus is one of the few remaining tent circuses touring North America.

Lutterworth to reopen municipal office burned in fire last year

Budget cutbacks will not stand in the way of the ceremonial opening of Lutterworth Township's refurbished municipal offices.

In order to cope with lost provincial revenues, Lutterworth Council is cutting out all the frills, including the $250 that had been budgeted for the July 10 open house. Council, however, felt the function should go ahead and they decided to fund the event with money from their own pockets.

The township office was badly damaged in a fire last year. Portions have been refurbished and an addition has been built. Now, council wants to show it off.

Former councillor Al Stott will be doing the ribbon cutting at 11 a.m., which will kick off the open house. All residents are welcome to come out and tour the bright, new facility between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Canada Day celebrations

as fielded questions about the boat and his job.

The entertainment got under way in earnest at about 1:30 p.m. with the first of several contests of dexterity for kids aged two to 72 (and maybe a little older).

A foot race for pre-schoolers got things started, followed by wheel barrow races for all ages.

The biggest test of co-ordination was the two-person board race. Two boards with ropes at either end (kind of like cross country skiing with two people per pair of skis) were manoeuvred about 20 yards from start to finish lines. A few of the teams showed amazing balance and co-ordination while others appeared to have four left feet.

A contest for pre-schoolers to see who could roll a water-filled balloon across the finish line first (without breaking it) preceded the water balloon toss. First, second and third place ribbons were awarded in several classes. Only one participant got a real soaking while many others finished with wet feet.

The final test of skill (or bravery) was the egg toss, with dozens of participants of all ages lining up to take a chance at being splattered with raw eggs.

Seniors enjoy the day out at local restaurant and dairy Faithful Kathleen Owena was here Saturday, June 19th to entertain us with an afternoon of piano music. We sincerely thank her.

On Sunday afternoon Estella Burch came to read to us. We are enjoying the book very much and truly thank her. Chapel service was conducted by Rev. John Burgess and Ruth Worthington played the organ. Thank you, Ruth and John.

Monday lunch was enjoyed at the "Brown Owl". Greg Sawyer drove a bus load, residents and volunteers, 29 of us to the restaurant. They had an area reserved for us with one volunteer at each table to assist. The volunteers were Dorothy Hunter, Helen Donaldson, Jean Robson, Beth and Fred Parker and John Thomas, guided by Doris and Greg. We could order anything we wished and were served very quickly. We completed the outing by having ice cream at Kawartha Dairy. Thanks to everyone who helped. There is so much involved loading and unloading the residents.

Louise Leonard held the Tuesday morning Chapel Service. We thank her sincerely. Dottie Muirhead had crafts in the afternoon and Corinne Arseneault helped with our Tuesday evening card games. Thank you Dottie and Corinne.

On Wednesday, Bingo was held in the Auditorium called by Doris Robertson Alton and aided by volunteers. It was an enjoyable afternoon. Our thanks to Doris and all the volunteers.

Our regular Thursday tea party and monthly Birthday Tea was hosted by the Gelert Ladies and Dorothy McElwain made the lovely birthday cake (from scratch). The birthday ladies were; Lola Prentice - June 11, Grace Coburn - June 23, and Winnifred Barnum - June 6. When we finished tea the Gelert ladies; Ricky Francis, Joyce Hill, Jean Hollohon, Audrey Vick, Dorothy Melburn, Joan Moore, Ruth Kellett, Dorothy McElwain, Kit Schroter and Isa Hillyard, had a sing-a-long and the ladies really put emphasis on the songs they sang. The Residents sincerely thank you from their hearts.

We had a treat Thursday evening when Sylvia and Dick Thompson were our callers for Bingo. They filled in, in the absence of Kathy Woods. It was Dick's first time at calling Bingo and he did a great job, as well as Sylvia who kept us on track. We do thank them sincerely.

Friday at Happy Hour, the Grandfathers were here for the entertainment. They are Bill Payne, George Smith from Oshawa and Karl Hadley. If they can't all come, some of them always make it. It is certainly appreciated by Hyland Crest. Many thanks to the volunteers, Don Holden, Ellen Holden and Mary Guillemain.

Please Take Note: July 17, 1993 - a Flea Market will be held at Hyland Crest Auditorium to raise funds for the Special Care Area. If you should have anything saleable you do not need, we would appreciate your donating them to our Flea Market.

Trent-Severn report

Haliburton lakes holding their own in water system

On Monday, June 21 the Haliburton area lakes of the Trent-Severn Waterway averaged 95.7 per cent which was only slightly changed from the previous week.

Rain had continued until that Monday, but was followed by dry, warm weather through to June 25. A more normal decline was beginning, but the levels were about 3 per cent above the 18-year average for the date.

The Kawartha Lakes peaked this week again at 108.3 per cent on June 22 before declining to 1.2 per cent by June 25. This percentage is measured as 100 per cent from the winter low to the summer full level. Otonabee River flow had to be increased due to the water surplus to about 62 cubic meters per second.

IN MEMORIAM

BABINEAU: Colette (nee Hudson) In loving memory of a dear daughter who passed away July 3, 1988 in her 25th year.

There will always be a heartache And often a silent tear.

But always precious memories Of the days that you were here. We hold you close within our hearts

And there you will always remain To walk with us through all our lives

Until we meet again.

Forever loved and sadly missed by parents Al & Meryl Hudson, brother Darryl, sister Marla Fraser & family.

IN MEMORIAM

BARRY: In loving memory of a dear husband and father Fred who passed away July 8, 1985. The world may change from year to year

And friends from day to day But never will the one we loved From memory pass away.

The silent grief that's in the soul No human life can trace

For many an aching heart is hid Behind a smiling face.

Lovingly remembered by wife Pearl, sons Dennis & Brian and daughter Sharon.

LACEY: In loving memory of a dear husband, father, grandfather and great grandfather, Cliff, who passed away July 6, 1987. We often sit and think of him

When we are all alone For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own.

Always missed and never forgotten, Jean and family.
